SOURCE:

1. In the summer of 1953, the village councils of Ognica, Kazmierzow and Warszaw—these villages are located south of Odra Port between the Swinoujscie (Swinemuende) port canal and Przytor (Pritter)—appealed, without success, to the local inhabitants to search for new residences. The authorities indicated that if the inhabitants, except for a few specialists employed at the Fishing Base (Baza Rybacka) and some fishermen and sailors, did not leave their homes voluntarily they would be forcibly removed to settlements near Miedzyszorze (Misdroy). The residents of the above mentioned villages are mainly employees of the Baza Rybacka.
2. Although informant did not specifically state the reason for these requests by the authorities, he noted that the entire Swinoujscie area will eventually become a large Soviet naval and airforce base, and all construction in the area is planned with this end in sight. The people in Swinoujscie feel that they will all eventually be forced to leave the town.
